Penthouse viewing

Thursday, April 12, 2007

Three Biscuit Company penthouse overlooking downtown L.A.'s arts district are the site of "Design Lofts 2007: Biscuit Company Lofts," a showcase opening Friday. The 2,000-square-foot spaces in the 1925 building have been given a contemporary spin by Kenneth Brown, star of HGTV's "reDesign" and representative of the L.A. Mart Design Center; Aleks Istanbulu, architect of the Biscuit lofts; and Matt Andersen-Miller and Jon Andersen-Miller of Andersen-Miller Design in Culver City. Tours run through April 29 at 1855 Industrial St. Tickets are $20 to $25. Information: (323) 993-7211
