Fine Living: 2026 will encompass 1,300 sq. ft. within the L.A. Mart/NeoCon West second-floor exhibit hall during L.A.

DesignWeek 2006. Produced by L.A. Mart Design Center and Balcony Media's LA Architect and LA Inside magazines, it is being created by Tighe Architecture. The installation will explore "how design, technology and new product innovations, coupled with "person-centered" design concepts, address the transforming individual, occupational and recreational needs and desires of the 21st -century homeowner." It will consist of a central living space with a Panelite raised floor system and built-in lounge seating upholstered by Knoll Textiles; a technology control center with Apple Cinema Displays and Power Mac G5 Quads; and a 15-foot-long, stainless steel kitchen island designed by Antonio Citterio for Arclinea.
